Thinking About Christmas

Design and Decor, Jodi's Blog by Jodi Marks

Now that the kids are back to school, my calendar is filling up with all the activities going on until the holidays. Holidays? Is it time to start thinking about the holidays again??? Wow, this year has flown by!

Now that September is upon us, one of the things I like to do is start planning my seasonal decorations and thinking about any additions or changes I want to make to the tree, yard, mantel, and just about anywhere else I can decorate! Plus, I scan the market for things that will make setting up and taking down all the festivities easy.

Well, a smart gal out of Tennessee came up with a great idea for helping get the lights on and off the tree in a snap . . . no mess and tangles to deal with!

It's called Trim-It-Quick. In just a few easy steps, you'll have the lights up and on in no time flat! To see for yourself, visit their website at trimitquick.com.

This year, I may just have to get TWO trees now that my decorating just got a little easier!
